To whom it may concern:

We at, Noel Farming, have been using Power Devour from Greg Schoenewe and Mark Heston with ICM in our 4800 head hog confinement.

We not only have been more satisfied with ICM's professional quality of workmanship, but we are extremely happy with the performance of the Power Devour product.

Odors (ie: hydrogen sulfide, ammonia, and methane) have been diminished and eliminated. Inside and outside our confinement the odors have been greatly reduced.

The flies are extremely reduced along with no spider webs after using Power Devour. The webs were really bad in the past and now since using Power Devour there are no spider webs at all!!!

We had some crusting at the beginning and the total 4800 head hog confinement pit is now liquid.

There are no rats or mice now in our confinement and only a couple of mice have been seen in the office area. With no crust in my pits these rodents do not have a home and had to move.

The TSS and heavy sludge, at the bottom of the pit, have been liquefied and greatly improved as seen this last fall during pump out after two applications of Power Devour. We will know more this Fall when we pump.

Would I use the Power Devour product again? ABSOLUTELY.
